Dole Ireland Limited is part of Dole plc, the world's leading fresh produce provider. Operating out of 30 countries, our vertically integrated supply chain extends across the globe incorporating over 250 facilities. Growing, sourcing, packing, marketing, and distributing over 300 lines of fresh produce, our range extends from the more familiar to the truly exotic and our mission, always, to make the world a healthier, more sustainable place.

With the coming together of Total Produce plc and Dole Food Company, Inc., to create Dole plc in July 2021, a new code of conduct, the Dole plc Code of Business Conduct and Ethics was developed reflecting Dole's commitment to ethical trading practices and more specifically our responsibility as a business to our colleagues, our shareholders, our growers and suppliers, our customers, the communities in which we work, grow and trade, consumers, and wider society in general Dole Ireland Limited is committed to providing equality of treatment to all existing and potential employees.

We recognise and promote the value of diversity across our businesses endeavouring to ensure that all feel included and valued irrespective and, indeed because of, their differences.

We are committed to the goal of equal opportunity in employment. We seek to provide a work environment for employees that fosters fairness, equity and respect for social and cultural diversity and is free from discrimination and harassment.

We want all our colleagues to come to work, feeling comfortable every day, regardless of their makeup. Under the duties set out in Gender Pay Gap Information Act 2021, the Company is publishing information on its gender pay gap for all Irish companies that engage 50 or more employees. Dole Ireland Limited employs 50 or more relevant employees as of 30/06/25. The following table sets out the gender pay gap statistics for Dole Ireland Limited. Dole Ireland Limited has a mean gender pay gap of 18% and a mean gender bonus gap of 51%. 74% of males receive a bonus and 79% of females.

Traditionally within Fresh Produce a greater proportion of men than women have pursued careers in the industry. This trend continues to be prevalent today. Consequently, Dole Ireland Ltd currently employs over twice as many males as females and 89% of employees in the higher hourly rate quartile are male.

Dole Ireland Ltd is committed to addressing the gender pay gap. However, certain factors impact on our performance. Bonus payments, for example, are widely provided to all employees. However, higher bonuses are paid to those in more senior roles, roles which continue to be predominantly occupied by males. Similarly, sales positions, another area dominated by men, receive bonuses based on financial performance.

The Company has held several campaigns to raise awareness of Diversity and Inclusion across all businesses. The Company promotes a safe and inclusive environment where colleagues are treated with dignity and respect. Through our ongoing work to help develop colleague understanding of diversity and inclusivity in 2025 we provided Workplace Harassment and Unconscious Bias training across our businesses. We believe initiatives of this nature help to provide all employees with greater confidence to achieve their full potential, which we openly support and continually encourage.

We each have a role to play in helping to prevent harassment taking place in the workplace.

These GPG measurements are distinct from equal pay, which is about ensuring males and females are paid the same for conducting work of equal value. Dole Ireland does not promote pay differentials for different genders undertaking equivalent roles.
